GENERAL INFORMATION

CIP 101 is a student-focused social responsibility course. It aims to introduce students to concepts such as participatory democracy, active citizenship and civil society and to mobilise them through these concepts with the awareness they will gain on social issues through the course.

- Weekly topics and materials will be on Sucourse.
- Each student will be assigned to a project group and each group will have weeks of practice for 5 weeks per semester.
- Each group will have a supervisor.
- Information about the group discussion meetings will be e-mailed by your supervisor.

Grading Scale

Grading will be based on your weekly attendance. Active participation is as important as attending the project and it's highly recommended.

75%-100%	S
74,9%-10%	U
9,9%-0%	NA

- Active participation will be rewarded by 5 bonus points.
- Sona system: If you participate in studies this semester, you will get a bonus equivalent to a weekly meeting within the scope of CIP 101 course. To get a bonus each student needs to get 5 research points.
