Course Description:

Macroeconomics is the study of the overall performance of an economy, and it attempts to answer questions such as what determines a nation's long-run economic growth, what causes a nation's economic activity to fluctuate, why do some countries have high rates of inflation while others maintain stable prices, what causes unemployment, can government policies be used to improve a nation's economic performance, and so on.

In this course we will study some basic concepts and tools that are needed to understand macroeconomic issues that include the determination of an economy's total output; consumption, saving and investment; money, interest rates and prices; the determinants of long-run economic growth, business cycles, and international trade and lending.

Textbook: Andrew B. Abel, Ben S. Bernanke and Dean Croushore, Macroeconomics, Pearson Addison Wesley, 10th edition

Grading:	Midterm:	30%
	Final:	70%

Midterm date: April 18, during the lecture hours

Final exam date: Will be set and announced by the Student Resources

Course Requirements and Rules of Conduct

- Disclaimer added upon request by the University Administration: We may have to revise the course plan according to the countrywide reassessment to be made regarding higher education, which is expected to happen at the beginning of April. The content to be delivered is certain but the method of course delivery, the number and dates of exams, and some other details are subject to change.
- Teaching format:
  - I will be teaching the course in class and the lectures will be simultaneously delivered through Zoom.
  - Recitations will be held online, delivered through Zoom.
  - Class attendance is expected and the lectures will not be recorded. Students are responsible for all of the material covered during the lectures.
  - I will post the slides that I use in the lectures but I cover some additional material that are not available in the posted slides. You should follow the lectures and take notes as necessary.
- Problem sets will be given to help with the course material but they will not be collected and graded. They will be solved in the recitations and you are urged to work on them before they are solved in the recitations.
- Recitation sessions will not be held every week. In the weeks that will have a recitation, it will be announced by email.
- The midterm exam will be held online, as announced by the Council of Higher Education. The final exam is planned to be held physically on campus.
- Make-up exam policy:
  - Make-up exams are granted only in case of a valid and documented reason. In case of an illness, you have to have a formal report from the university health center.
  - The make-up exam for both the midterm and the final will be given at the same time, after the final exam is over. If you happen to have missed both the midterm and the final, then you will take the make-up exams back-to-back.
- The definition for scholastic dishonesty is given in the rules and regulations of the Sabancı University. Cheating during written work will result in a course grade of F. All incidents of scholastic dishonesty will be reported to the Dean's Office.
- The course grade is solely based on the grading scheme stated on the syllabus. There will be no exceptions to this (like doing additional assignments, writing a term paper etc.)
- All class announcements, grades and problem sets will be posted on the course website, which is available on SUCourse. Make sure to visit the site frequently.
