Aim

This course aims to provide students a solid background on the development of feminist, women's, gender, and sexuality studies in Turkey through a social scientific lens. We will explicate how currents of thought, socio-political movements and various representations have evolved from the very end of Ottoman Empire to 2020s, while we will keep a close eye to the construction of identities, communities, sociabilities, bodies, and subjectivities of women, men, transgenders, gays, lesbians, bisexuals, queers and all other "gendered and sexualized citizens" of Turkey.

Grading

%10 Attendance; 10% Participation to discussions; 40% Mid-term exam; 40% Final exam.

Important:

* Lectures will be in class and synchronously broadcasted via Zoom.

* No Zoom recordings will be uploaded after the class.
